Blairmore Council Regular Meeting

The fortnightly meeting of the Blairmore city fathers was held on Monday night, Mayor Lyon, Councillors Drain, McLeod, Beebe, Hinds and Sinclair being present.

The minutes of previous meeting were read and adopted, and the following communications received:

Mayor Oumette, of Coleman as to whether Blairmore had a by-law respecting nuisance ground and town scavenger. Secretary was asked to inform Mr. Oumette that no such by-law was in use at present.

Several communications from Brent Noxon & Co., Regina, regarding option on debenture bonds were received, and the copies of replies forwarded by the Mayor and secretary-treasurer were ratified. Option time was extended definitely to March 10th, within which period Brent Noxon & Co. hoped to be able to transact a deal.

Western Canada Fire Underwriters Association of Winnipeg recommended an equipment for fire fighting purposes, which would be necessary to secure a reduction in insurance rates. If such an equipment would be installed the rate would be reduced about 15%.

The following accounts were read and ordered paid: Trusts & Novelty Co. for dog tags $5.62; Canadian Fairbanks Morse Co. for gate valves $55.00 (ordered laid over); Jas. Contina for digging up water connections $6.00; Pacific Coast Pipe Co. $310.37 January Telephone $1.20; W. J. Bartlett for stationery $10.50; J. R. Irwin $100.00; C. Hiseoock $35.70.

The committee appointed to investigate and report on the free fire hall site and nuisance ground, reported as follows:

Hon. Mayor and Council—Your committee to whom was referred the communication of the West Canadian Collieries, Limited, offering a free site for Municipal building and a site for a nuisance ground, beg to report that—

1. It would not be in keeping with established rules to place a fire hall outside the fire limits.
2. We find no registered plan of lots mentioned.
3. We find no established road, nor any allowance for a road to said proposed nuisance ground, and further if the property should be mortgaged the mortgagees would have to release mortgage before said lease could be valid and received.
4. If for no other reason, we feel that it would be unwise and not for the best interest of the ratepayers to accept the offer as made.

Hillcrest Social Banner Success

The first concert, basket social and dance given by the Hillcrest Football club on Monday evening proved to be a success far beyond the anticipations of the club's most optimistic supporters. We believe the whole affair sets a new mark in the class of Page enter amusements, although it is almost certain that it is only in Hillcrest such a successful amateur concert is possible. The proceedings opened at 8.30 with a short speech from J. S. Quigley, the president of the club, in which he thanked the audience for the manner in which they had turned out in such poor weather to give their support to their team and hoped that at the end of the season the club's record for 1913 would compare favorably with their achievements the previous year.

The concert was opened by Messrs. Petrie and Bradshaw with an overture on the piano and violin. Sam Paton was then called upon and the hearty applause at the end of his "By the Old Mill Stream" persuaded him to favor us with "Mary." Mrs. Grimshaw followed him, singing "Under the Deodar" in a first class manner and was compelled by an appreciative audience to return to the stage, giving in answer to the calls for an encore "Down the Vale." Will Owen was next on the program his "Froggy would a wooing go" being encored again and again. A duet by Mrs. Fred Wolstenholme and Mrs. Wilfred Wolstenholme was much appreciated, these ladies receiving a prolonged ovation. Miss Thomas, upon being called gave a monologue that enabled her to exhibit her superior talent as a mimic, bringing down the house at the end of her sketch. Mrs. Abe Dodd, the Hillcrest pioneer and favorite with all, gave us "Darby and Joan" in her own inimitable way, her songs receiving the encore of the evening. Messrs. Robert Petrie and Jas. Logan, two braw laddies from the land of cakes, brought the first part of the evening's program to a close with a skit on the pipes, this being well received by a now jolly audience of boosters.

The auction of the numerous baskets received was the next item on the program. Mr. Quigley took the part of the auctioneer and needless to say made good at it. The judges of the baskets found it a very difficult job to decide which were the most beautiful and original baskets, the array of

Brewery Company Elects New Directors

The adjourned meeting of the Blairmore Brewing & Malt-ing Co., was held in the office of the Company on Saturday afternoon and was largely attended.

The business of the meeting included the ratification of the action of the directors in borrowing the sum of $14,500 from the Royal Bank of Canada, and obtaining the sanction of the shareholders to borrow an amount necessary, not exceeding $35,000.

The Auditor's report was received, and placed on file. The election of a new board of directors formed part of the evening's business and resulted in the election of Messrs. W. A. Beebe, Colin Macleod, Fred Pelletier and E. Morino. There are yet three others to be elected at a meeting to be convened in the near future.

baskets being extremely pretty and many very original decorations being noticed among the collection. The prize for most original was awarded to Mrs. Kell, her basket representing a football field with Hillcrest and Burns going to it in a way that reminded one of the memorable game played by these two teams last season when Hillcrest played their only losing game of the season. The prize for most beautiful basket was awarded to Mrs. J. Grimshaw, her decoration representing a football in Hillcrest colors holding the Cup won last season surrounded by a pretty array of flowers.

The prizes being awarded the work of selling the baskets commenced in earnest. The first basket put up for sale brought six dollars and when the first five had been disposed of for twenty seven dollars a big pleased smile was noticeable on the faces of the various members of the Club Committee. In all twenty six baskets were received and sold, fetching $148.00, an average price of $5.60 for each basket. The highest price fetched by any one basket was $15.00, Miss Jennie Thomas' basket being knocked down at that figure.

The door receipts amounted to $80.50, making a total for the evening's receipts of $206.50. We venture to make the assertion that this constitutes the record amount raised by any football club at any one time between Medicine Hat and Cranbrook, and unless we are advised to the contrary we shall enlarge our limits and include all Western Canada from Winnipeg to the coast.

The social part of the evening's entertainment went off very well indeed. Sandwiches and coffee had been very kindly supplied by Mrs. Petrie and those who were not fortunate enough to secure a basket were thus enabled to get a little refreshment before starting in on the three hours dance that finished off the evening.

With this amount of money in hand Hillcrest has every reason to believe that at the present time their football club is the richest in the Pass. We trust that at the end of the season they will have been the most successful.

GENIUS AND VANITY.

Schopenhauer Was Not a Bit Afraid to Prate Himself Out.

Schopenhauer, the great German philosopher, afforded one of the most remarkable examples of self-complacency that has ever been known. His private soliloquies on his own productions are almost beyond belief. In writing to his publishers of his work he says:

"The worth and importance are so great that I do not venture to express it even toward you because you could not believe me," and he proceeds to quote a review "which speaks of me with the highest praise as the greatest philosopher of the age, which is really saying much less than the good man thinks."

"Sir," he said to an unflattering stranger who watched him across a table d'hôte where he acted the part of the local "lion" habitually—"if, you are evidently astonished at my appetite. True, I eat three times as much as you, but then I have three times as much mind."

Auerbach, the German novelist, also had a great appreciation of his own powers and work, and many stories are told of the other writers who displayed his vanity. A German writer says of him: "Every year Auerbach visits three or four fashionable watering places, at each of which the following episode occurs at least thirty times. The novelist indulges in small talks with the little girls of the natives and invariably ends the conversation thus: 'Knowest thou who has been talking with thee? Behold Auerbach! Tell that at home!'"

GRIT OF A SHARPSHOOTER.

Sergeant Halliwell's Feat at the Siege of Lucknow.

During the siege of Lucknow in the Indian mutiny there was afforded what was probably the most notable instance of the record in a crack shot.

The rebels were endeavoring to mount two eighteen-pounders, which they had hauled up to the flat roof of one of the palaces surrounding the residency, and it was necessary to prevent this being done, or they would have been able to pour down a heavy fire on the defenders. Sergeant Halliwell was chosen for this duty. He was a crack shot of the thirty-second foot.

Being given the best rifle that could be found, his orders were to prevent the guns being mounted. He took up his position behind some battered down masonry where there was only cover for him to lie at full length and remained in that position. It is said, for several days, not being able to stand, inasmuch as that would have resulted in instant death. His change of position was made only when he was obliged to roll over from his back to his stomach. His eyes were ever kept on the threatened guns, and whenever the rebels attempted to mount their gun, his unerring rifle played havoc among them and prevented their object being accomplished. Food was brought to him at night by men who crawled to his position.

After some time a sortie was made, and the Rebels were driven off. This brave work Sergeant Halliwell received the Victoria Cross. —Harper's Weekly.

With the purchase of the first winter hat comes a demand for veils. These attractive and becoming accessories are often a large item in the expense account, and many women resort to them to learn how to successfully clean the ones which have done service last year. Place them in a jar of gasoline and gently shake them back and forth. Allow them to remain for an hour and change the gasoline.

Screw the top on tight and after another hour remove the veils and shake dry. Hang in the air until the odor of gasoline has entirely disappeared, then press with a warm iron.

FACE COVERED WITH PIMPLES.

Spread on Limbs. Red and Inflamed, Became Sores. Had to Tie Hands While He Slept. Well, Thanks to Cuticura Soap and Ointment.

St. Cecily, Quebec—"My child was severely attacked by a bad skin disease. His face and arms became covered with little red pimples which a little later spread on his limbs. The pimples were very red and inflamed. They were like a little red spot which soon became a little larger and raised up. There were four or five together. These pimples caused him to scratch so that we had to tie his hands while he slept. The itching made him suffer so much that he cried part of the night, waking up most of the people in the house. The pimples became sores and were very painful."

"I used without success several remedies which were recommended to me. I then used Cuticura Ointment and Soap, giving him a bath every morning with hot water and Cuticura Soap, and then applied a thin layer of Cuticura Ointment on the parts affected. They gave great relief from the first application. After using one box of Cuticura Ointment and a little more than one cake of Cuticura Soap, the skin was completely cured. Thanks to the Cuticura Soap and Ointment my baby is perfectly well and I shall always have them at hand." (Signed) Mrs. N. John, Jan. 4, 1912.

Cuticura Soap and Ointment are sold throughout the world. They are the only skin cure. Liberal sample of each mailed free, with 25¢ in Skin Road. Address post office Box 100, St. Cecily, Quebec, P. Q., Canada, U. S. A.

— SOME LAMP LORE.

Rub Off Top of Wick Daily With Soft Paper.

Despite the reign of the electric lamp, the lamp still has many followers. Many take to lamps because they think, so because the light it sheds is softer, more becoming and better for the eyes.

When a lamp fails to give a good light do not waste time reviling the manufacturer, but look to your own duties.

Perhaps the wick is crooked or too short or not in square. Rub off the top of the wick each day with soft paper and if it fails to draw pull it up on the catches or get a new one. Unless sure you can put in the wick correctly send the lamp to a store and have it done properly.

Perhaps a new wick is less necessary than removing the oil with which it is clogged. Boil the wick in vinegar and water and dry thoroughly.

Fill your lamps daily. Never light a lamp that is nearly empty, as it increases danger of explosion. Fill a lamp by daylight. If it must be done dark keep away from a flame and wipe oil from the outside.

Even with the best oil a poor light results if the burner is not clean. It should be washed once a month in a quart of cold water to which have been added a tablespoonful of washing soda and a little soap. Boil several hours, pour off the blackened water, cover with fresh boiling water, soap and soda, boil five minutes, rinse in clean hot water and rub dry with a clean soft cloth that is not hairy.

Lamp chimneys may be rubbed off with soft paper daily and when smoked should be washed in hot ammonia water, rinsed in cold water and polished with a tea towel and soft paper.

WINTER BREAKFASTS.

What to Serve at the Morning Meal

These Cold Days.

Perhaps because of the energy of the cereal distributors the American breakfast table is discarding meats and hot breads and substituting fruits and cereals.

There are menus for just a dozen breakfasts where heavy meats are omitted. These may not exactly suit any housekeeper, but will serve to remind her of certain foods and suggest ways of varying this somewhat monotonous meal:

I. Grapefruit. Wheat Cereal With Dates. Baked Apples. Baked Potatoes. Boston Brown Bread. Coffee.

II. Hot Baked Apples. Corn Cereal. Baked Bacon. Baked Muffins. Coffee.

III. Oatmeal With Prunes. Cottage Cheese. Coffee.

IV. Bananas. Hominy or Corn Mush. Poached Eggs on Toast. Coffee.

V. Cracked Wheat or Graham Mush. Baked Apples. Baked Potatoes. Baked Muffins. Coffee.

VI. Orange. Creamed Potatoes on Toast. Fried Minced With Syrup. Coffee.

Black silk stockings and buttoned patent leather boots accompany the frock.

The Gorge in the Bottle.

Why does water gurgle when poured from a bottle? As water pours out it attempts to pour in. Occasionally the hand holding the bottle may move and give the air the opportunity. The quick rush of the water to fill the hole made by the air causes the gurgling sound.

His One Mistake

Two pickpockets were standing on their trial—notorious thieves, who had been caught at last red-handed. Not the less, they contrived somehow to put up a good defense, thanks mainly to the cleverness of the lawyer who they employed.

The detective who had effected the arrest spent a miserable twenty minutes in the witness-box contradicting himself repeatedly.

Then what made you suspect the men? asked the lawyer.

As I said before, one of them was wearing an overcoat with a slit in the lining, so that he might operate more easily.

"Some come," said the lawyer. "Would you arrest me if you saw me wearing such an overcoat?"

No, sir. I happen to know who you are; you're a lawyer.

Well, what's the difference between a lawyer and a pickpocket?

The detective shook his head. He really didn't know, he muttered.

Minard's Liniment Cures Diphtheria.

Vienna. Dr. David Heinrich Minard, who is an eminent orientalist and professor of Semitic languages at the Vienna University died recently, aged 70 years. He was born in the village of Brunnau, Canton of Argovie, has lived in great misery for the last fifty years, and practically wasted his life away. He had saved the amount penny by penny on an average of $85 a year, dressing as a beggar, and often passing himself during the fifty years past.

Everybody was surprised when he died, as he had been expected to live a large sum. After the formal presentation of the gift Mme. Honegger said that she had called the man who had saved the amount penny by penny on an average of $85 a year, dressing as a beggar, and often passing himself during the fifty years past.

PLANS FOR AERIAL POSTMEN

Aeroplane to Become Factor in Development of German Colonies.

Berlin.—After a recent flight as a passenger in a biplane recently, Doctor Self, secretary for the colonies, expressed his conviction that flying machines will play an important part in the colonies. For this reason, he added, he has been devoting special attention to the subject for some time past, and is awaiting a favorable moment for carrying his views into execution. This moment, he believes, will soon be at hand, and plans respecting the employment of flying machines in German colonies are already worked out.

In the first place the colonial secretary considers that aeroplanes will render valuable service in transmitting instructions in case of riots and insurrections. In the second place he proposes to establish an aerial postal service in districts where as yet there are no ordinary means of communication. In the third place he intends to employ aeroplanes in colonial land surveying.

Married Entertainment The Bachelors

On Sunday night last Baker's Beauties were the guests of Lyon's Lions at the Alberta hotel, and needless to say were given a right royal treat.

One of the "best spreads" ever placed before a bunch of hungry-looking sports was laid on two tables around which sat the hosts and their guests to the number of thirty, each wearing such pleasing expressions that one would have made many of the would-be Sweet Twenty-one of the opposite sex sit back and wonder if there wasn't an opportunity slipping by in which they should endeavor to become the side-kicker of a man.

The menu included the following, which Charlie Roy thought well to arrange in rhyme:—

MEU

"There was oyster soup and cocktail,
Lobster salad and pickled beets,
Baked whitefish with lemon sauce
That was anything but sweet,
Vanilla sauce on fritters
With pineapple in the core,
Macaroni cheese—Italian style—
Tenderloin steak and more,
Or tongue with Spanish sauce boiled,
Spring chicken roast and dressed,
That made the party wonder how
They're going to face the rest.
Best lamb and pork and spuds and corn
Assorted pies and bread,
A great strawberry pudding
Or a layer cake instead,
All this with fruits and nut galore
Went on to make a meal
That sure would make one sympathize
With that after-dinner feel."

After dinner followed stories of by-gone days, when our forefathers used the dory paddle as a hockey stick and never dreamed of hitting a fellow on the "mug" or the face protector under a min-take for the puck, when only the bachelors who hadn't a toasty-wooty at home were permitted to engage in such rough-and-umble scrape as hockey, and when the referee would not torture the eagerness of bachelors by shouting at a bachelorette, such as is connected with the married train of Blaimore, when perchance he chooses to leap up among the light globes, or higher if Providence will ever permit. Mr. Bricco, as the star of the married stiff, related some of his experiences in such rough games as baseball, hockey, dominoes, poker, checkers and ping-pong, stating that often while engaged in these games his life was in jeopardy. Other married men gave vent to their past experiences, but it was very noticeable that not one of them ventured to mention the worst trying game of their lives through which woeing they won and were not under any obligation to treat their comrades as on the present occasion.

Mr. Dawson, one of the best checkmen on the married team, could not be present at the chicken supper, so the boys very thoughtfully gathered up the bones that remained and sent a messenger boy to Mr. Dawson's house with them.

The hosts included H. E. Lyon, R. M. Bricco, A. Morency, M. B. Dawson, H. G. Bigelow, H. B. Campbell and F. E. Hinds.

The guests included H. Paul, H. G. Benson, J. B. Irwin, H. F. Tate, C. R. Roy, H. Pinkney, A. H. Baker, G. Hicocks and W. J. Barfield.

It was the desire of the hosts that each bachelorette bring along a lady between the age of 19 and 21, but either Blaimore possesses no affluence of such an advanced age or they felt would admit the fact of their having passed the threshold of the "teen" age, none would put in an appearance.

Mezera, Hinds and Bricco led in the singing of that very appropriate but painful melody "Don't I long to be single again," and response followed by Mezera, Irwin and Paul pathetically rendering variations on "Now you're married, you must obey." There is yet another game to be played by the married and single teams, when it is hope that the married men will place themselves in a position to be able to smile back at the bachelors.

Hockey

The league game played between Blaimore and Coleman on the Blaimore rink Friday night resulted in a win for Coleman.

At times throughout the game some of the Colemanites did not express a desire to ascertain the ruling of referee White and judge-of-play Grace, and wandered so far from the trap sporting spirit as to hold closed fists ready for any opening for encounter. Some others, who were considerably propelled by the overzeal of their boss tanks, expressed a free desire for fight, but their actions were soon quelled by the application of good sound advice from some of the witnesses.

The result of the game was 7-2. In the first period honors were about equal; but Coleman gained considerably in the last two periods of the game.

A large number of people came up from Frank and Bellevue to witness the game.

On Saturday night a charity game was played between Frank and Blaimore teams on the Blaimore rink. The object of the game was to raise funds to assist Mr. Sheral, one of the stars of the Frank team, who last week entered hospital suffering from acute pneumonia. Some $16 was netted for the good cause, and the game, which was a good clean one throughout resulted in a victory for Frank by a score of 6 to 3.

Such a step on the part of hockey promoters is one deserving of every praise, and in this connection not only those figuring actively in the game are recognized friends of the hockey boys, but others have freely offered on many occasions to render any assistance necessary.

In connection with Mr. Sheral, Dr. Mackay, of the Frank hospital, offered to attend him during his illness, and supply a nurse, all free of any charges whatever, and for this special case has secured a nurse from Edmonton.

Who's Who in Blaimore?

The Coleman Bulletin of last week stated: "A Blaimore ex-bank clerk has apparently found something mighty attractive in Coleman—in addition to pure water and bracing air. Whatever his fin, he seems to think it the best ever and is standing guard with menacing mien and jealous eye."

The party referred to above is now wearing a blush that would cast a shadow on a scarlet rose, and we understand that the tables have so completely turned around that that Coleman "source" of attraction is similarly attracted to the Metropolis.

A Finger's Worth More Than a Heart

For having her little finger crushed by the slamming of the door of a railway coach a Seattle woman was awarded $22,200 damages. It is reasonable to expect that the will now have many aspirants for the rest of her hand.

Dr. Warnock, C. P. on Naval Question

Mr. David Warnock (Macleod): I am glad to have an opportunity at last of speaking on the momentous question now before the House. I have heard it stated by hon. members behind the treasury benches that Canada cannot man a navy. But, Sir, listening as I have to all most every speech delivered on both sides of the House, I have come to the conclusion that there are more navy admirals sitting in the Canadian House of Commons than will meet the requirements of all the navies of the British Empire for many years to come. If our German friends have any sense of humor, they must have had many a quiet laugh while reading the discourses of these would-be naval experts on naval strategy. I have no theories on naval strategy, but I do think that Canada's duty in the matter of naval defence.

Listening as I did to the speeches of hon. gentlemen opposite I was much impressed by the diversity of opinion prevailing among them. Some hon. members tried to lead the House to believe that the Government policy is a contribution now, to be followed later by a Canadian navy; others that the policy of the right hon. the Prime Minister is one of continued contribution; and others that it is a contribution now, and that there will be nothing further until we are given a voice in Imperial politics. It was very edifying, and I am sorry the Prime Minister found it necessary to impose the burden of silence on his followers: but I am surprised he did not do so earlier in the debate.

I do not purpose quoting the 1910 speeches of hon. members opposite. The pages of "Hansard" are already replete with quotations from those speeches and I agree to some extent with the hon. member for Brandon (Mr. Atkins) when he says that what hon. members said in 1908 and 1910 is of little consequence. In most cases that is true; but there are some exceptions. I believe that the right hon. the Prime Minister, then leader of the Opposition, and the Minister of Trade and Commerce (Mr. Foster) laid down sound principles in their 1910 speeches, and that those speeches are the best and most complete answer to the speech of today. I am sure that both the hon. gentlemen deep down in their hearts still believe what they said in 1910 to be true. Their words of today are not the words of the patriot of 1910, but are dedicated by the influence of political expediency; and in departing from their principles of 1910, I believe they have made a great mistake. In my humble opinion, their policy of contribution is all wrong and will not find favor in the eye of the people in Canada.

I have said that I had no theories to offer on naval strategy; but I desire to put on record the opinion of eminent men representing both sides of politics in the United Kingdom and who are well qualified to judge correctly what is the best policy for Canada and the other overseas dominions to adopt in giving effective aid to the Empire. I quote from the speech of the Right Hon. Winston Churchill at the Shipwrights' banquet, on the eve of Mr. Borden's visit to London.

If the main development of the past ten years has been the concentration of the British fleet in decisive theatres, it seems to me—and I dare say to you not unlikely that the main development of the next ten years will be the growth of the defensive forces in the great dominions overseas. Then we shall be able to make what we think will be found to be the true division of labour between the Mother country and her daughter states—that we should maintain the sea supremacy against all comers at the decisive point, and that they should guard and patrol all the rest of British Empire.

Here is a message of hope and good cheer from Mrs. C. J. Martin, House of Commons, who is the mother of fifteen children. Mrs. Martin was cured of stomach trouble and constipation by Chamberlain's Tablets after five years of suffering, and now recommends them to the public. Sold by all dealers.

The World's Christian Citizenship Conference

One hundred among the ablest speakers of the world one from each of the principal countries of the world and more than one from some countries, notably China, Japan, France, England, Canada and the United States have been definitely secured to deliver addresses at the world's Christian citizenship conference, Portland, Oregon, June 29 to July 9, 1913. President-elect Wilson heads the list in America, Editor James A. Macdonald that in Canada and the British Isles; Prof. Ithaka and Motoda come from Japan, Ny Poon Chew and Dr. Isaac T. Headland from China, Dr. Arneberg Haigzation from Turkey and Charles-Merle d'Aubigne from France. Men in public life, ministers missionaries, educators, philanthropists, sociologists moral reformers all recognized as eminent statesmen constitute the list.

Fully ten thousand delegates representing communities, moral reform organizations, mission boards and various Christian and patriotic bodies in this and other countries have already been appointed to attend this world assembly and others are being appointed at the rate of from one to two thousand a month. This world gathering is not to be a convention whose action is to be binding upon all who attend and participate, but a conference for the comparison of views and the mutual exchange of practical ideas of leaders of Christian thought and action the world over.

Simultaneous sectional conferences are to be held on Paris, immigration Prison Reform, Social Justice, socialism, Capital and Labor, Monism, Marriage and Divorce, the Weekly Rest Day, Public Education, Personal Evangelism and Social Service, Christian Government, etc. with Goss, Osborne of Michigan, Subbs of Kansas, West of Oregon, Lieutenant Governor Wallace of California, Ex-U.S. Commissioner of immigration the Hon. Robt. F. Waterhouse, Dr. David Starr Jordan and Benjamin W. Wheeler and others of their type in charge.

It is discussion, such as is planned for this world assembly at Portland, of public issues by leading men of the times that has hitherto revolutionized the world. Nor can the proposed discussion by the array of talent secured for the approaching world's Christian citizenship conference well fail to create a mighty influence for good or evil upon public sentiment the world over.

Railway companies generally are promising, we are informed, unusual concessions in fare and other accommodations to all attending this conference. The general director is Dr. J. S. Martin, 603 604 Publication Building Pittsburgh, Pa., who will answer all inquiries and furnish self-explanatory literature relating to the conference.

Rev. W. H. Irwin of Bellevue is the local representative in this district for the convention and will be glad to communicate any information to anyone interested also to meet any who would like to be appointed delegates.

To Give Place To Edmonton

Edmonton, Alta., Feb. 26.—Barracks of the Royal North West Mounted Police at Fort Saskatchewan will be abandoned by the Dominion government within 30 days, when the quarters, erected in Edmonton at a cost of more than $200,000, are to be formally opened. Inspector E. A. Macdonnell, officer commanding, is arranging to transfer the contingent to this city. The new barracks accommodate 30 men, and there are quarters for a large number of horses. The guard houses at the fort will be retained indefinitely. The site, comprising 300 acres, has been acquired by the provincial government, which is planning to erect a penal institution there. In the early days the old fort was the scene of numerous encounters between the Indians and the mounted police and it has housed many noted criminals, some of whom paid the extreme penalty to expiate their crimes.

A Record Bag

On Saturday night last Goory's store at Coleman was raided by Constable Grant and Corporal Meade, where was found a complete opium outfit, together with several of the Celestials sitting back easily in the armchairs watching the wreaths as they ascended in useless volumes. The smokers were "bagged" in the same manner as other birds are bagged in the open season; but circumstances are always different during restrictive periods and the Chinese, fraternity at Coleman were forthwith lined up before Inspector Belcher and Magistrate Morrison Monday and with their usual leniency caused the Chinks to dig up of their chin purses the nice little sum of $123.50 which was necessary to assist in the carrying out of justice against the opium traffic.

Do you know that more real danger lurks in a common cold than in any other of the minor ailments? The safe way is to take Chamberlain's Cough Remedy, a thoroughly reliable preparation, and rid yourself of the cold as quickly as possible. This remedy is for sale by all dealers.

Afternoon Tea

A very enjoyable afternoon tea was given on Thursday evening by Mrs. Green in aid of the Catholic Church. Mrs. H. Gebo, Miss Mary Sustrum and other ladies waited on the numerous visiting friends, who all appreciated the dainties profusely served. This is certainly a credit to the hostess, and the fact that such a considerably great number of friends responded to her invitation shows Mrs. Green's popularity with our town folks.

This is the season of the year when mothers feel very much concerned over the frequent colds contracted by their children; and have abundant reason for it as every cold weakens the lungs, lowers the vitality and paves the way for the more serious disease that so often follows. Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is famous for its cures, and is pleasant and safe to take. For sale by all dealers.

Good Friday, March 21st, will be a gala day for Blainmore and Coleman Oddfellows, when the pick of the Encampment degree teams of the Province, but chiefly Calgary and Edmonton, will visit Blainmore and confer the patriarchal degrees. For You—Horse Sense. For Your Horse—Confidence

It's plain every day horse sense and common sense to have your horse calmed with

RING-POINT CALKS

How do you value him and his work? You must keep him sharp and in shape. He will have confidence when he knows he and know if his shoes have Ring-Point Calks. They are stronger and safer than old-time flat calks. That's no saying. They last twice as long. That's another. Double saving in every case will pay for a pile of food—more horse calks when you need them. Can furnish screw calks with a weak iron center, but I'd rather not. You must calk to stay there, and wear your own Ring-Point Calks with a curved, instead of a straight, center. STEEL RIGHT THROUGH THE CENTER—the whole length. This makes them sharp at first, keeps them sharp to the last. Get on the saving side of shoeing bills. Let me fix up a set of Rowe Calks today.
